“Wit” is a powerfully moving drama by Pulitzer Prize winning playwright, Margaret Edson. “Wit” tells the story of Vivian Bearing's final battle with ovarian cancer. As a strict and calculating professor of 17th Century literature, she uses her love of scholarship to steer her through a rigorous treatment of chemotherapy. Ultimately, she realizes that academic talent is a poor substitute for warmth and kindness.

Part of the proceeds from ticket sales will be donated to Cayman Hospicecare.
